

Table of Contents

Preface and acknowledgements	5
Introduction	11
I Refoundation at Serra Orlando	17
1. The new site	17
2. Earlier occupation at Serra Orlando	19
3. Scale	22
4. Water	22
5. Wind and weather	23
6. Stone, quarries, and timber	23
7. Defenses	24
II The new city plan	25
1. Conventional orientation and nomenclature	25
2. Metrology	25
3. The city plan	25
4. Streets: plateiai and stenopoi	29
5. Housing blocks and lots	34
6. Street altars, street names, and neighborhood organization	37
III Dating the new city	43
1. The historical question	43
2. Material evidence	44
3. Douketios, Syracuse, and Kamarina	48
4. The Morgantina litra	53
IV The agora	55
1. The agora at the refoundation	55
2. The fifth and fourth centuries BCE	63
3. The early third century BCE	63
4. The early Hellenistic building program, ca. 260–240 BCE	67
5. Euergetism	72
6. Phased public construction in the agora	72
7. Changes in the agora, ca. 240–211 BCE	73
8. Expansion of the agora into residential insulae; expropriation	73
9. Metrology	74
10. Civic stamps on brick and tile; the Morgantina silver treasure	74
11. Early Hellenistic political institutions	78
12. Cults in the agora	79
13. Water in the agora	82
14. Violence in the agora and elsewhere: the transition to Roman rule in 211 BCE	86
15. Transformation of the agora in the Hispano-Roman period, 211 – ca. 35 BCE	88
16. Village phase and final abandonment, ca. 35 BCE – ca. 50 CE	91

V	The Ekklesiasterion and precinct of Zeus	93
1.	Dimensions	93
2.	History of the excavation	93
3.	The first altar of Zeus and other early features	99
4.	Demolition of the North Wing of the Central Shops; animal sacrifice	100
5.	The Ekklesiasterion in the third century BCE	100
6.	The temple and altars of Zeus	108
7.	Evidence for dating	116
8.	The Ekklesiasterion of Morgantina	117
9.	Renovation, ca. 100 BCE	119
10.	Catalogue	122
VI	The Northeast Building	133
1.	Dimensions	133
2.	Siting	133
3.	Surviving walls	134
4.	Masonry and roof	136
5.	Description	137
6.	Dating, architectural form, and civic function	138
7.	Catalogue of objects from the Northeast Building	139
VII	The North Stoa and Prytaneion	145
1.	Dimensions	145
2.	History of excavation and study	145
3.	Condition and overlay	147
4.	Siting	148
5.	Masonry and walls; seismic damage	149
6.	Roof	151
7.	Description	151
8.	Metrology	167
9.	The North Stoa in the third century BCE	167
10.	Dating and deposits	170
11.	Civic functions: the Prytaneion and paired rooms	171
12.	Hispano-Roman reuse	172
13.	Excavation north of rooms 19–21	173
14.	The Hispano-Roman sacellum	174
15.	The North Stoa terrace	176
16.	Architectural fragments	180
17.	Catalogue of objects from the North Stoa	182
VIII	The East Stoa – Dikasterion	197
1.	Dimensions	197
2.	Overlay and condition	197
3.	Siting	199
4.	Walls and masonry	201
5.	Description	202
6.	Roof and rainwater collection	210
7.	The stepped terrace	210
8.	The terrace fountain	211
9.	The alley and latrine	212
10.	Dating evidence and deposits	214
11.	Function and history of use	214
12.	The potter's workshop	217
13.	Architectural fragments	219
14.	Catalogue of objects from the East Stoa	219
IX	The Public Office	225
1.	Dimensions	225
2.	Overlay and condition	225
3.	Siting	225

4. Masonry, floors, and roof	227
5. Description	228
6. Rerouting of the East Stoa drain	238
7. Terrace	239
8. Dating	239
9. Form and function of the Public Office	239
10. Reuse in the first century BCE	241
11. Architectural fragments	242
12. Catalogue of objects from the Public Office	243
X The Fountain House	251
1. Dimensions	251
2. Siting	251
3. Overlay	252
4. Materials	252
5. Design and construction	253
6. Dating and history of use	262
7. Rainwater collection in the Fountain House	268
8. The Doric order of the aedicula	273
9. The votive deposit	278
10. Architectural elements	278
11. Catalogue of objects from the Fountain House	287
XI The Northwest Stoa	297
1. Dimensions	297
2. Siting	297
3. Overlay	297
4. Materials	297
5. Metrology	298
6. Description and condition	298
7. Dating and function	307
8. Later history: rooms A–C	307
9. Drains and conduits	308
10. Architectural fragments	309
11. Catalogue of objects from the Northwest Stoa	309
XII The West Stoa	315
1. Dimensions	315
2. Excavation and overlay	315
3. Siting	316
4. Masonry and floor construction	320
5. Construction campaigns	323
6. Metrology	324
7. Design	325
8. History of occupation and dating	326
XIII The Bouleuterion	329
1. Dimensions	329
2. Siting	329
3. Condition and earthquake damage	331
4. Walls and materials	333
5. The early Hellenistic building	336
6. Flanking structures: south rooms and Annex	346
7. Dating and design	350
8. Ancillary functions of the Bouleuterion	352
9. Hispano-Roman reuse of the building	353
10. Architectural fragments	353
11. Catalogue of objects from the Bouleuterion	361

XIV The Doric Stoa: an Agoranomion?	367
1. Dimensions	367
2. Siting	367
3. Overlay	367
4. Description and condition	367
5. Metrology	374
6. Dating	374
7. An Agoranomion?	375
8. Late occupation and abandonment	375
9. Architectural fragments	377
10. Catalogue of objects from the Doric Stoa	378
Appendix 1 The draped female sculpture from the East Stoa	387
Appendix 2 An architecture of wood and stone	397
Appendix 3 Wall construction	399
Appendix 4 Geology and geography of Morgantina by Sheldon Judson	403
Appendix 5 Human skeletal remains from the North Stoa by Carrie L. Sulosky Weaver	413
Indices	417
Index of Ancient Authors	417
General Index	418
Bibliography	421
Foldout plans and sections 1–10

