

Table of Contents

Preface	7
Part I. Context
Functional Multilingualism and the Use of Standard Languages BO UTAS	11
The Study of Oral Narratives in Iran: An Assessment of Recent Activities and Trends ULRICH MARZOLPH	17
Part II. The Shāhnāme and Beyond: Oral vs. Written
Sun, Moon and Star(s): A Set of Poetic Formulae in Ferdowsi's Šāh-nāma CARL ERIXON	29
Applying the Oral Performance Model to the Longer Barzūnāma (Supplément persan 499) KUMIKO YAMAMOTO	39
At the Juncture of Orality and Textuality: The Concept of the Book and of the Written Word in Mediaeval Persian Epic Narratives in Prose JULIA RUBANOVICH	55
Literary, Oral, Local and Global: Varieties of Localization in Dari Persian Storytelling in Afghanistan MARGARET MILLS	75
Part III. Storytelling Traditions in Other Iranian Languages
The "Innocent Persecuted Heroine" Tale in Southern Kurdish Folk Literature SARA BELELLI	91
A Study of the Trials and Tribulations of the Balochi Epic Hero Mir Chakar Rind and the Sindhi Epic Hero Chanesar, with References to the Iranian Epic Traditions SABIR BADALKHAN	107
Some Geographical Place Names of Balochistan as Reflected in its Oral Literature MOUSA MAHMOUDZAHI	139

Strategies for Clause-combining in Oral and Written Balochi Narratives CARINA JAHANI & JAROSLAVA OBRTELOVÁ	151
The State of Oral Traditions in Balochi in Iran MARYAM NOURZAEI	163
Benefits and Drawbacks of Longitudinal Research in a Tribal Community in Southwest Iran ERIKA FRIEDL	181
List of Contributors	197
List of maps:
Location of place names mentioned in the sayings	140
Balochi dialects	164
Distribution of speakers of Coastal Balochi	166
Distribution of speakers of Koroshi	171
Distribution of speakers of Sistani Balochi	173