

Contents

Geleitwort zur Reihe	v
Vorwort der Projektleiter	ix
Preface	1
Introduction	3
Pottery as an archaeological source	3
Historical background and archaeological evidence at Groß Strömkendorf	5
Historical background	5
Archaeological evidence	7
Aims and problems	11
Methods	13
Documentation	13
Statistical distribution	13
Microscopy	14
Thermal colour test (TCT)	16
Shape analyses – Proportional analyses	16
History of the research of ceramics	17
Early Medieval pottery types in the Baltic region	23
Slavonic pottery	23
Scandinavian pottery	29
Ladoga pottery	30
Curonian pottery	30
West-European pottery	30
The pottery from Groß Strömkendorf	39
The settlement	39
The cemetery	43
The distribution at the trading site and the cemetery	46
Results of the study of pottery decoration, shape, and vessel size	55
Decorated ceramics	55
Grain size variation	57
Sherd thickness	58
Vessel height	60
Rim diameter	60
Rim shape	63
Base types	64
Base diameter	64
Base thickness	65
Impressions on the bottoms	65
Fragmentation	66
Results and interpretations	66

Results of the scientific analyses of the pottery	69
Shape analyses	69
Microscopic analyses	72
Interpretation of the microscopic analyses	76
Grains size distribution analyses	78
Thermal analyses	79
Ceramic craft at Groß Strömkendorf	83
Raw material	83
Vessel building technique	84
Surface treatment	85
Decoration	85
Firing	86
Function	87
Chronological results	88
Groß Strömkendorf as a trading place in Northern Europe	91
General results	95
Summary	96
Zusammenfassung	97
Die Keramik des frühmittelalterlichen Handelsplatzes und Gräberfeldes von Groß Strömkendorf bei Wismar, Mecklenburg
Резюме	98
Керамика с торгового пункта и некрополя у Гросс Штрёмкендорф (Висмар, Мекленбург)
Appendix	99
Bibliography	115
Plates	123