The present book represents a revision of my Doctoral thesis which was undertaken at the School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London and completed in 2012.

To my supervisor, Prof. Almut Hintze, I owe an immense debt of gratitude: it was she who first instructed me in the Avestan language and suggested I select from among the Yašts a text to edit. Were it not for her unflagging encouragement and guidance, this monograph should not have been possible. I am also deeply indebted to my viva voce examiners Dr. Elizabeth Tucker and Prof. Nicholas Sims-Williams for their many valuable suggestions and corrections. Naturally, I alone am responsible for all errors contained herein.

For financial assistance, I am happy to acknowledge the aid received from the following organisations: firstly, the Arts and Humanities Research Council for providing me with a full, Ph.D. scholarship; secondly, the British Academy for electing me to the post of Postdoctoral Fellow and affording me the opportunity to bring this work to press; thirdly, the Corpus Inscriptionum Iranicarum for a generous publication subsidy.

My sincere thanks extend also to Ludwig Reichert Verlag and Prof. Nicholas Sims-Williams for accepting this edition of the Rašn Yašt into the Beiträge zur Iranistik series.

Last, but by no means least, I wish to express my heartfelt appreciation to my parents for all their love and support.
